“We are pleased that Leju was able to deliver strong results in the second quarter despite various industry headwinds,” said Mr. Geoffrey He, Leju’s chief executive officer. “We have stayed focused on implementing our mobile strategy, which has allowed us to anticipate and address new market demands. Our Weixin Home Promotion launched in June received an overwhelmingly positive response, and we expect our recently launched mobile products for both e-commerce and listing services will further enhance our interaction with customers. Going forward, Leju plans to continue its emphasis on O2O services and product innovation, and we look forward to cooperating with our partners to provide comprehensive products and services for our clients.”

Mr. He added, “The real estate market in China experienced a substantial slowdown this year, which has led to some loosening of restrictive government policies and an indication that more loosening may be ahead. Current market conditions have also prompted a number of developers to show pricing flexibility while boosting their marketing efforts. We believe these trends will have a positive effect on the market in the second half of the year.”

¹ Leju uses in this press release the following non-GAAP financial measures: (1) income (loss) from operations, (2) net income (loss), (3) net income (loss) attributable to Leju shareholders, (4) net income (loss) attributable to Leju shareholders per basic ADS, and (5) net income (loss) attributable to Leju shareholders per diluted ADS, each of which excludes share-based compensation expense and amortization of intangible assets resulting from business acquisitions. See “About Non-GAAP Financial Measures” and “Unaudited Reconciliation of GAAP and Non-GAAP Results” below for more information about the non-GAAP financial measures included in this press release.

Second Quarter 2014 Results

Total revenues were $117.4 million, an increase of 63% from $71.9 million for the same quarter of 2013, mainly driven by the growth of revenues from e-commerce services.

Revenues from e-commerce services were $68.3 million, an increase of 159% from $26.4 million for the same quarter of 2013, primarily due to a 107% increase in discount coupons redeemed², as a result of the expansion of the Company’s e-commerce business through partnerships with additional property developers.

Revenues from online advertising services were $44.8 million, an increase of 11% from $40.5 million for the same quarter of 2013, primarily due to revenue growth in both the Company’s new home and home furnishing channels.

Revenues from listing services were $4.2 million, a decrease of 15% from $5.0 million for the same quarter of 2013, mainly due to the slowdown in secondary home sales.

Cost of revenues was $11.7 million, a decrease of 36% from $18.4 million for the same quarter of 2013, primarily due to decreased fees paid to third parties for services in connection with the Company’s listing business and decreased amortization of intangible assets as the Company’s exclusive rights with Baidu were extended to March 2015 at no additional cost and the Company’s advertising agency agreement with SINA was extended to March 2024 at no additional cost.

Selling, general and administrative expenses were $88.5 million, an increase of 86% from $47.6 million for the same quarter of 2013, primarily due to increased marketing expenses related to the growth of the Company's e-commerce business, along with increased staff costs resulting from increased headcount.

Income from operations was $18.5 million in the second quarter of 2014, an increase of 211% from $6.0 million in the same quarter of 2013. Non-GAAP income from operations was $24.1 million, an increase of 83% from $13.2 million in the same quarter of 2013.

Revenues from e-commerce services were $118.0 million, an increase of 188% from $41.1 million for the same period of 2013, primarily due to a 127% increase in discount coupons redeemed, as a result of the expansion of the Company's e-commerce business through partnerships with additional property developers.

Revenues from online advertising services were $69.4 million, an increase of 12% from $62.2 million for the same period of 2013, primarily due to revenue growth in the Company's new home and home furnishing channels.

Revenues from listing services were $8.5 million, compared to $8.4 million for the same period of 2013, primarily due to the slowdown in secondary home sales.

² See "Selected Operating Data" below for more details on the discount coupons sold and redeemed.

Cost of revenues was $23.9 million, a decrease of 29% from $33.7 million for the same period of 2013, primarily due to a decrease in fees paid to third parties for services in connection with the Company's listing business and decreased amortization of intangible assets as the Company's exclusive rights with Baidu were extended to March 2015 at no additional cost and the Company's advertising agency agreement with SINA was extended to March 2024 at no additional cost.

Selling, general and administrative expenses were $153.0 million, an increase of 87% from $81.7 million for the same period of 2013, primarily due to increased marketing expenses related to the growth of the Company's e-commerce business, along with increased staff costs resulting from increased headcount.

Income from operations was $20.5 million, compared to loss from operations of $3.7 million in the same period of 2013. Non-GAAP income from operations was $32.5 million, an increase of 208% from $10.6 million in the same period of 2013.

As of June 30, 2014, the Company's cash and cash equivalents balance was $228.6 million.

Second quarter 2014 net cash provided by operating activities was $18.5 million, mainly attributable to non-GAAP net income of $20.8 million. Net cash used in investing activities was $7.0 million, mainly comprised of a payment of $5.7 million to Baidu related to the exclusive rights agreement. Net cash provided by financing activities was $117.8 million, mainly comprised of net proceeds of $121.1 million from the Company's initial public offering (the "IPO") on the New York Stock Exchange in April 2014.

These forward-looking statements can be identified by terminology such as “will,” “expects,” “anticipates,” “future,” “intends,” “plans,” “believes,” “estimates,” “target,” “going forward,” “outlook” and similar statements. Leju may also make written or oral forward-looking statements in its reports filed or furnished with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, in its annual report to shareholders, in press releases and other written materials and in oral statements made by its officers, directors or employees to third parties. Statements that are not historical facts, including statements about Leju’s beliefs and expectations, are forward-looking statements that involve inherent risks and uncertainties. A number of important factors could cause actual results to differ materially from those contained, either expressly or impliedly, in any of the forward-looking statements. Such factors include, but are not limited to, fluctuations in China’s real estate market; the highly regulated nature of, and government measures affecting, the real estate and internet industries in China; Leju’s ability to compete successfully against current and future competitors; its ability to continue to develop and expand its content, service offerings and features, and to develop or incorporate the technologies that support them; its limited operating history and lack of experience as a stand-alone public company, given its recent carve-out from E-House and prior reliance on E-House for various corporate services; its reliance on SINA, Baidu and others with which it has developed, or may develop in the future, strategic partnerships; substantial revenue contribution from a limited number of real estate markets; complexities resulting from its ongoing relationships with E-House, due to E-House’s controlling interest in Leju; and relevant government policies and regulations relating to the corporate structure, business and industry of Leju. About Non-GAAP Financial Measures

To supplement Leju’s consolidated financial results presented in accordance with United States Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (“GAAP”), Leju uses in this press release the following non-GAAP financial measures: (1) income (loss) from operations, (2) net income (loss), (3) net income (loss) attributable to Leju shareholders, (4) net income (loss) attributable to Leju shareholders per basic ADS, and (5) net income (loss) attributable to Leju shareholders per diluted ADS, each of which excludes share-based compensation expense and amortization of intangible assets resulting from business acquisitions. The presentation of these non-GAAP financial measures is not intended to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the financial information prepared and presented in accordance with GAAP. For more information on these non-GAAP financial measures, please see the table captioned “Unaudited Reconciliation of GAAP and Non-GAAP Results” set forth at the end of this press release.

Leju believes that these non-GAAP financial measures provide meaningful supplemental information to investors regarding its operating performance by excluding share-based compensation expense, and amortization of intangible assets resulting from business acquisitions, which may not be indicative of Leju’s operating performance. These non-GAAP financial measures also facilitate management’s internal comparisons to Leju’s historical performance and assist its financial and operational decision making. A limitation of using these non-GAAP financial measures is that share-based compensation expense and amortization of intangible assets resulting from business acquisitions may continue to exist in Leju’s business for the foreseeable future. Management compensates for these limitations by providing specific information regarding the GAAP amounts excluded from each non-GAAP measure. The accompanying tables provide more details on the reconciliation between non-GAAP financial measures and their most comparable GAAP financial measures.
